

VIP SALOTI (VS) MDF

USE

MDF is used in producing a variety of profiled panels and sections of furniture such as tabletops, drawers, and doors. With its smooth and stable surfaces, it's useful for lacquering and overlaying with different kinds of wood veneers (in different textures simulating natural wood and a wide range of plain colors to granites). Colors and finishes range and are offered on a case by case basis according to residential or contract project needs as determined by the designers and architects overseeing the projects.
